EDITORIAL

By the grace of Almighty Allah, the Pakistan Journal of Surgery is completing its thirty years of publication. During these thirty years our quarterly journal is being published regularly.

I am grateful to Prof Dr Khalid Masood Gondal, President of the Society of Surgeons Pakistan and Chief Patron of Pakistan Journal of Surgery and Dr Abdullah El-Muttaqi, General Secretary of the Society of Surgeons Pakistan and Managing Editor of Pakistan Journal of Surgery for their extreme cooperation. It is their efforts and cooperation of all my colleagues in Editorial Board and all my respectable reviewers which made all this possible.

I hope Allah Almighty will help us to continue this effort. I also take this opportunity to congratulate Society of Surgeons Pakistan and its Karachi Chapter on successful organization of 9th SAARC Surgical Care Conference. I hope we will continue these activities in future.
